Description:

Engaging the classic statements of the Nicene and Apostles Creeds, Archbishop of Canterbury Rowan Williams guides readers through the central elements of Christian faith. What does it mean to believe in God? Can God possibly be almighty in the midst of so much evil and disaster? How am I to understand the meaning of Jesus Christs ministry and resurrection? To what purpose is the church called? And what does it really mean to follow Christ in todays broken world?Tying the answers to all these questions together and addressing perplexities such as the possibility of miracles and how to read the Bible, Williams demonstrates that each of the basic tenets of Christian faith flows from one fundamental belief: that God is completely worthy of our trust. With vast knowledge of Christian history and theology and characteristically elegant prose, Rowan Williams is a compassionate guide through the richness and depth of Christian faith.

Rowan Williams, Archbishop of Canterbury, uses the Nicene Creed as the scaffold for reintroducing us to our Christian Faith. The very first pages are highly exciting as he reminds us...or informs some of us...that our beloved word belief has nothing to do with mental assent to a proposition or emotional agreement with a cause. The root of the word means to have faith in. And to have faith means to cast everything upon Christ and depend completely upon him. A tightrope walker would never put foot to wire or rope if he did not trust the strength of the rope to hold him up. And once he has taken a step it all depends on the rope. So with the Christian faith as Williams takes us through the creed and helps us understand that in the resurrected Christ the universe is suddenly recreated and broken people now have a place stand and One on whom we can depend. This little volume from Amazon is worth your time a effort many times over. Very highly recommended.
